

Identifying Researchers: Why, when and how?

Tuesday, June 3, 2008, 10:00am - 4:00pm
National Library of Australia, Canberra

9:30am Registration
10.00am	Warwick Cathro, Assistant Director-General, Resource Sharing and Innovation, The National Library of Australia	Welcome and introduction
10.10am	Basil Dewhurst, Manager, Resource Discovery Services, National Library of Australia	The National Library of Australia People Australia Project
10:35am	Simon Porter, Information Manager (Research), eScholarship Research Centre, The University of Melbourne	University researcher management
10.55am	Andrew Bennett, Executive Manager, Library Technology Service, The University of Queensland Library Geeho Liu, Regional Sales Manager, Thomson Reuters	The Thomson Reuters approach
11.20am	Katie Blake, ARROW Business and Operations Analyst Tom Ruthven, University of New South Wales Teula Morgan, Manager, Online Services and Strategies Information Resources, Swinburne University of Technology	Managing Naming Authorities
11.40pm	Patricia McMillan, Australian Access Federation and Middleware Action Plan & Strategy Projects, IT Services, The University of Queensland	Working towards the solution
12.05pm	Nick Nicholas, Business Analyst, PILIN Transition Project; Business Analyst, ARCHER Project	Working towards the solution
12:30pm Lunch
1:15pm	James Dalziel, Professor of Learning Technology, Macquarie University & Andrew Treloar, Director, Australian National Data Service (ANDS) Establishment Project Technical Consultant; Monash SII eResearch Projects (ARROW/DART/ARCHER) Monash University	Review and synthesis
2:15pm	Round table discussion Facilitator: Warwick Cathro	A matter of definition
2.45pm	Round table discussion Facilitator: Warwick Cathro	Use cases, privacy, linking between identifiers, requirements for a researcher identity
3.50pm	Adrian Burton, Program Manager, Australian Partnership for Sustainable Repositories	Where to from here?
4:00pm Close		